Max and David's International Restaurant and ShopRite of the Garden State Pavilion Top Survey of Philadelphia Area Kosher Establishments

Philadelphia, PA (May 3, 2009) — The results of the 2008-2009 Philadelphia area kosher survey conducted by Kosher Community Surveys LLC have just been released. The survey asked local consumers about their opinions on Philadelphia area kosher stores, restaurants, and bakeries. Overall winners are:

Best Kosher Restaurant:	Max and David's International Restaurant
Best Kosher Store:	ShopRite of the Garden State Pavilion

Other establishments with strong ratings include Singapore Vegetarian Kosher Restaurant and Simon's Butcher. Neil Rosenbaum, President of Kosher Community Surveys LLC, observed, "Consumer participation in the Philadelphia survey continues to grow with over 350 people participating this year. In this troubled economy, kosher establishments should be more sensitive than ever to the needs of their customers."

The results of the survey have been published in a final report that can be found on the Kosher Community Surveys LLC's website. The report is a unique resource for consumers and visitors to use in deciding which businesses to patronize. In addition, the results of the survey can provide restaurants, bakeries and stores with guidance on how to better serve customers. The survey will be conducted on an annual basis to provide a means to evaluate changes in the quality of the kosher establishments.
